However, I want to make it clear to the media and our supporters that he does not speak for the Green Party. "We would also like to make it clear that any individual or group who works to infiltrate the Green Party, to instigate conflict between our members or to use partisan means to engage in a social media campaign is not welcome in our party. We must remain united, in peace, and without fear. "With regard to internal conflicts within the Green Party, we are clear that our priority is the party, and not any one individual. We will act decisively to address any issues of discrimination or harassment of any of our members or supporters." The full statement can be viewed here. Kenney was referring to a comment that Kennedy made during an interview with the CBC on Sunday, in which Kennedy said that the Greens are "enemies of the state" and that this attitude is "very, very dangerous." He also said that as a "socialist" the Green Party is the antithesis of what the Conservatives want for the country.
