Soundboard™ 3d Visualization Software allows you to see your sounds mapped on 3-D models created using OBJ 3D modeling software. To generate a 3D model, you need two things: 1) OBJ 3D modeling software 2) Soundboard 3d visualization software Soundboard 3D Visualization Software works with OBJ 3D modeling software by accepting OBJ file (which is a 3D modeling file for Apple Mac in obj format, which can be opened with OBJ 3D modeling software) and returns a 3D model of the sound object, using OBJ file as the model's source and the Soundboard 3d visualization software as its renderer. Soundboard 3d visualization software utilizes a number of technologies, including stereo soundfield decoding, to translate recorded audio into 3D information. In addition, multi-channel sound files can be simultaneously rendered into 3D models and the 3D models can be seen through a rotating camera. With Soundboard, you can view and control 3D models, download them, translate 3D models, and create a hologram of 3D models from your collection. Soundboard 3d visualization software is also a useful tool for musicians. By combining OBJ 3D modeling software and Soundboard 3d visualization software you can easily generate 3D models of your instruments, arrange instruments in 3D, and create a hologram of your instruments for performances. Soundboard 3d visualization software is available for Mac OSX 10.7 or later. It can be used to create new OBJ 3D modeling files and to export newly created OBJ files in OBJ format.
